Information for stall holders at the Russell Birdman Festival

The festival organisers and Russell Recyclers need your help to reduce the large volume of waste that, in the past, has been created at the Birdman Festival. Our intention is to become a Zero Waste Event.

Zero waste includes recycling but goes much further. It is a whole-system approach aiming for no waste from start to finish.

As a stallholder you can make a real difference to achieve a Zero Waste goal.

All Stall holders are asked to Pack In - Pack Out their rubbish i.e. take their rubbish home with them. Materials that are recyclable or compostable can be deposited in the recycling facilities provided.

Compostable Packaging requirement:

The Birdman Festival requires all stall holders selling food to use compostable food packaging. This means no polystyrene or plastic containers.

- We recommend using compostable cups, lids, plates, cutlery and straws.
- There are many compostable or biodegradable alternatives for packaging available:
- Sugarcane or potato starch plates and bowls, compostable coffee cups with plant-based lining, compostable wooden cutlery.
- Before the event, examine what you bring in and if it will create landfill waste. For example, do people really need a plastic plate or will a serviette do?
- If you are unsure if your materials comply, we can help. Please email russellrecyclers@gmail.com

Unlike plastic, compostable packaging is made from renewable resources (plants) and breaks down in a compost, massively decreasing the impact on the environment.

We know you care about the environment and appreciate your support in helping us make this year's Birdman Festival a Zero Waste Event.
